

THE MISSION

To be a lighthouse for Christ through a medical ministry in the Peruvian Amazon region of South America.

OUR VISION

Scalpel At The Cross is living the Love of Christ:

- By building a medical mission camp, which serves the orthopaedic needs of Pucallpan Peruvians, tribal populations and missionaries who serve them.
- By staffing such a camp with full-time Peruvian and part-time North American health care professionals.
- By serving as a lighthouse for Christ and a magnifying glass to God.

A GIFT OF LIGHT, HOPE AND SURGERY TO PERU

Gifts of all kinds have allowed medical volunteers to provide free consultation and surgical treatment to potential patients, identified by Peruvian healthcare workers and local missionaries. Gifts of medical equipment and supplies greatly improve the quality of care we provide. Financial gifts allow us to oversee the management of the mission and allow us to maintain The Scalpel At

The Cross home, affectionately known as "Jungle Bunks," which provides housing for Scalpel mission teams and storage of medical supplies, as well as housing for other short-term missionary groups serving the area.

Time, expertise, and prayer from our Scalpel family and friends provides a strong foundation from which we operate.

THE LOCATION

Scalpel At The Cross is located in Pucallpa (meaning "red earth"), a city of about 310,000 in the heart of the Peruvian Amazon Jungle and on the banks of the Ucayali River, the Amazon River's largest tributary. Pucallpa is in eastern Peru, 500 kilometers from Lima, Peru's capital of 10 million people.

Partnering with other ministries in the area, particularly South America Mission (SAM) and a SAMAIR aviation camp, Scalpel reaches out to the people of Pucallpa as well as the remote jungle tribes along the Ucayali River.

By offering our skills and abilities in the area of medical care and partnering with local Christian evangelical mission organizations, we are furthering the work of growing Christ's church in this area of South America.

We ask that you prayerfully consider your involvement and impact!
